

Cole Franklin

PhD Student in Math at Stanford University | ✉ colefrnk@stanford.edu

EDUCATION

Stanford University

PhD in Mathematics

Sept. 2025 – Present

Stanford, CA

University of Toronto

HBSc w/ Specialist Mathematics; 4.00 cGPA

Sept. 2021 – May 2025

Toronto, ON

- Awards: Coxeter Scholarship In Mathematics, Margaret Ronald Taylor and Thomas Paxton Taylor Scholarships in Mathematics, University of Toronto Scholar, J.S. McLean Scholarship

RESEARCH INTERESTS

I am broadly interested in algebraic and arithmetic geometry, with a particular interest in birational geometry of varieties over non-algebraically-closed fields.

TEACHING

Graduate TA: MATH 122 Modules and Group Representations

Instructor: Daniel Bump

Spring 2026

Stanford University

Graduate TA: MATH 113 Linear Algebra

Instructor: Charles Brittenham

Fall 2025

Stanford University

SERVICE

Directed Reading Program Mentor

Mentored an undergrad on Moerdijk & Mac Lane's "Sheaves in Geometry and Logic"

2026

Stanford University